

EASIER TRAVEL TO MORE ACCESSIBLE DESTINATIONS

The future West-East tram line running along the Baie des Anges will whisk you across the city in record time!

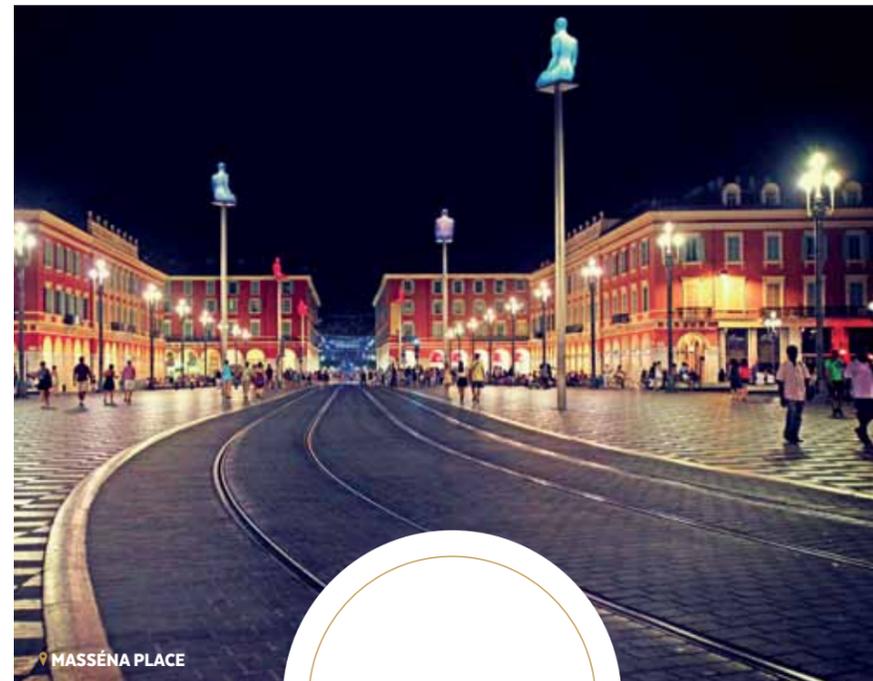

→ To safeguard the city's architectural heritage and reduce inconveniences stemming from construction work, the Nice Côte d'Azur Metropolitan Area opted for an underground tram line measuring some 3.2 km long to service the city centre. City centre access is simple and speedy with four underground stations, «Alsace Lorraine», «Jean Médecin», «Durandy» and «Garibaldi».

A MORE EFFICIENT PUBLIC TRANSPORT NETWORK.

→ The new tram line will make it easier to get from A to B thanks to a reorganised public transport network providing enhanced coverage of the entire city. You will be able to change to line 1 at the «Jean Médecin» and «Garibaldi» stations. Five park-and-ride facilities will be put into service with 1,500 parking spaces, while a multi-modal hub in the west end will hook the tram service up to other modes of transport, including plane, train, bus, bike and car.

NICE TOMORROW

A MORE BEAUTIFUL AND ACCESSIBLE CITY WITH THE TRAM.

NICE, A GREAT PLACE TO LIVE

Nice has 300 days of sunshine a year and is renowned the world over for its quality of life. The future West-East tram line will enhance your stay in an ever greener city, with over 77,000 m² of grass-covered platforms, 2,400 trees of several species planted along the line, and 30,000 m² of rehabilitated public spaces beautifying the neighbourhoods crossed by the tram. The future tram line will also improve your stay by removing 20,000 cars a day from the Promenade des Anglais, reducing noise and pollution alike.

With more trees and green spaces, more room for pedestrians, fewer vehicles and less noise and pollution, the new West-East tram line will make Nice the green metropolitan area of the Mediterranean!
